WANT COLUMBIA AVENUE
CROSSINGS CHANGED Corporation Counsel Instructed to Take Matter Up with Public Utilities Commission—Part to Be Discontinued.

The adjourned meeting of the common council of the city of Willimantic was called to order at 7 o'clock Thursday evening by Mayor Dunn and there were four aldermen present, Messrs. O'Connor, Case, O'Connor and Willimantic. A short session, being adjourned at nine o'clock. The changes on Columbia avenue was the most important matter taken up.
Alderman O'Connor introduced a resolution, which was passed, that the corporation counsel be instructed to make application to the public utilities commission for the change of the crossings of the Central avenue at a point 110 feet southerly of its present location, and of the New Haven road's grade crossing to a point 220 feet northwesterly of its present location. Alderman Case introduced the resolution.
A resolution was passed that a portion of Columbia avenue from a point 1,350 feet west of the line of intersection of Columbia avenue and Main street, a distance of about 2,140 feet to the Willimantic river, be discontinued as a street of the city. This resolution was introduced by Alderman Pomroy.

Corporation Counsel W. A. King was present and explained some of the details of the Columbia avenue improvements.

PERFECT RECORD.
Mayor, Dunn Has Attended Every Day of Legislature.
Representative, Mayor Daniel P.
Dunn of Willimantic is one of the few members of the Connecticut legislature who have a clean record of attendance at the session of this year. He has not missed a single day of the session since the legislature convened on the first Wednesday in January. Representative Dunn has attended every session without fail.

erable length. Mrs. Grant was 86 years of age and the cause of death was senile dementia. She is survived by one son, Andrew M. Grant. Her husband, the late Mr. Grant, died several months ago. She was a native of Pomfret, the daughter of Alanson and Abigail Carpenter Peck.

WANT TO BE MADE VOTERS.
Total of About 150 Hand Their Applications to Registrars.
Registrars John C. Barstow and Anne Brewster Fanning chapter, D.
A. R., was entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Martha Brewster, the party being conveyed there in Gilbert's auto. The registrars, Mr. W. R. Burdick, president. The paper of the afternoon, which was verified by Miss Ida Foster, was read by Miss Florence Wakefield. The theme was The Pequot War. The paper follows:
The Pequot War.
The Pequots were the most numerous, the most warlike, the fiercest of the aboriginal clans of Connecticut.
They occupied a tract of country about thirty miles square, the whole of the counties of New London and Windham and a large part of Tolland county.
Though the Pequots and Mohegans are treated by historians as separate tribes, they do not appear to have been so. The Mohegans, the Mohegan tribe was too ambitious to favor the siding views of the Pequots, and was a traitor.
Uncas was descended from the royal Pequot line and married a daughter of the Pequot chief. Sassacus was the most intractable and proud of all the New England Indians. He is described as having excelled all other men of his tribe in courage and address as a warrior. Scarcely had the first log cabin been built by the pioneers in the valley of the Connecticut river, when he began to devise means for their destruction. The summer of 1635 saw the first Pequot hostility towards the English. Captain Stone, from Virginia, succeeded in capturing the Pequot chief, Uncas, and eleven men, left Boston in a small trading vessel for the Connecticut river.
On their arrival at the mouth of the river trade was opened with the Indians. Although apparently friendly, they killed the entire party.
Treaty Never Made.
The following year Sassacus sent to the Massachusetts colony to promise skins and wampum in exchange for a league between his people and the paleface, but the treaty was never fulfilled. A treaty between the English and Narragansetts lasted about two years.

YOU CAN HAVE

HEALTHY HAIR
Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, a Harmless Remedy That Makes the Hair Grow.
What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak thin or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair of perfect color, with few applications of this remarkable preparation.
Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It

Selected Table Eggs

Do not accept if seal is broken

Eggs That Are Above

Suspicion

Eggs selected open by one as they come from the farm. Every egg carefully inspected for size, fullness, cleanliness and quality.
Packed in boxes of a dozen each—every one guaranteed if the seal is unbroken.
That's what it means to buy Blue Ribbon Eggs.
We have to be mighty sure of Blue Ribbon Eggs in order to guarantee them.
We are so sure of them that we instruct the grocer to refund your money if they are not perfectly satisfactory.

Blue Ribbon Eggs

Dillon and Douglass (New Haven Hartford Providence)

You can cook Blue Ribbon Eggs any way you like and they will taste delicious. You can even poach them. We guarantee it.
Blue Ribbon Eggs are large and clean.
Weigh twenty-four Blue Ribbon Eggs—then do the same with others. Note the difference.
The price of Blue Ribbon Eggs is always reasonable. They are the only eggs that are guaranteed.
